

FORM 5 PUPILS EXPERIENCE A TUDOR CHRISTMAS

Just before the end of term, Form 5 girls came into school dressed in Tudor outfits to try and experience what Christmas would have been like in Tudor times.

In the morning they were busy working on different Tudor activities such as making candles, lockets in the style of Nicholas Hilliard, tooled leather bookmarks, scent bags, ink and much more. In the afternoon, they made preparations for a Tudor banquet, where some were actors, singers, dancers or servitors.

They thoroughly enjoyed their day and learned a great deal about Christmas in Tudor Times. They were most grateful to the cook, Sylvia, for supplying the delicious spread of “Tudor” food for the banquet, especially the gingerbread!
