

Mother Nature – The earth

The earth is dying, her problems deep,

But she has promises to keep,

Tormented with nightmares she never sleeps.

Revenge is a promise a girl should keep.

no-one knows what lies beneath,

The silver stream of tears she weeps

Lost within a world she doesn't understand,

She is the breeze, the sea, the land

Wounded with the burden of supporting mankind

She is bruised yet she stays kind.
